

Basically with this one only play the full part at the beginning and end. For the rest of the track just play sparsely and vary things by octave or skipping notes and stuff, every so often join in and play the second bar, the quietest and most sparse bit should be just before the truck line. Other than that it's pretty straightforward, just remember to tune the E down to D.