

Yeah again best to reference live versions for any variations of parts, I don't really play the part the same way twice and it's changed a lot over time. Use a chorus pedal if you have one, the specific sound doesn't really matter just have it at whatever setting you think sounds good.